

Instructional Coaching

Differentiated Coaching in Social Studies

Receive customized coaching in social studies instruction such as modeling of research-based instructional strategies, participating in team teaching opportunities, performing instructional analysis, and participating in post-observation conferences.

Instructional Coaching: Building Curriculum, Instruction, and/or Assessments in Social Studies

Identify and design curriculum, instruction, and/or assessments that meet the needs of the Social Studies classroom that is aligned to the TEKS, varied, and diverse. Explore instructional strategies that will provide versatility while maintaining the rigor and relevance of the course.