

NAVIGATE

Exploring College and Careers

This workshop targets district and campus instructional leaders and counselors who are tasked with providing guidance to students and families as they make decisions about career and educational paths. It will provide an overview of materials and allow participants to schedule teacher training for their districts and order free materials, which include a free consumable student handbook and a detailed teacher handbook that includes procedures, lesson plans, and classroom visuals.

Navigate: Exploring College and Careers is a new resource from the Federal Reserve that provides six lessons designed for middle school and early high school students:

- Examine various careers and their educational requirements
- Evaluate academic opportunities beyond high school
- Identify academic choices and extracurricular activities that will enhance college applications
- Research the cost of postsecondary education
- Explore the types of financial aid and educational assistance available
- Imagine a personal path to success

Date: May 13, 2015

Time: 9:30 a.m.–1:30 p.m.

Location: Region 4 Education Service Center
McKinney Conference Center, Room 101
7200 Northwest 100 Drive
Houston, Texas 77092

Audience: District and Campus Instructional Leaders, Counselors

Session ID: 1143875

Cost: Free

Lunch will be provided. To register, visit www.esc4.net/PD and enter the Session ID.