The Whole Enchilada: CACFP Application Renewal

Just like a recipe, every part of the CACFP application has its purpose. Join us as we bring each part together to make a final product that would get a five star review from even the toughest critic. Let us help clear your plate with helpful information on budgets, procurement, management plans, and more! This session will be packed with so much delectable information, you'll want to come back for seconds!

Chicken Run: Effective Administration of the CACFP

Calling all birds of a CACFP feather! Join our flock to learn about effective administration of the CACFP. To prevent you from putting all your eggs in one basket, the session will cover a wide variety of topics like CE eligibility, required training topics, frequency, and documentation, filing claims and reimbursements, eligibility and enrollment, and more...to make sure you know how to rule the roost from start to finish. Whether you're a spring chicken or a mother hen, this session is an egg-cellent refresher. You will leave feeling positively sunny-side up about running your program.

Operation CACFP

You have been selected to participate in Effective Operations of the CACFP. Your mission- should you choose to accept- will include acquiring crucial skills and knowledge on meal patterns, menu planning, creditable foods, documentation, and several other top secret subjects. Participants will learn to unlock previously uncharted portions of their brain to become experts in operations, preparing you for future assignments in the CACFP. This message will self-destruct in 5...4...3...2...
